Academy of Clinical Electrophysiology & Wound Management<sup>SM</sup>

I am thoroughly enjoying this time of transition – new growth, graduations and moving on to “what’s next”. It feels good to celebrate! These are some of the latest appearances in our flower bed up north. Spring came pretty late to the UP this year, but it was worth the wait.

We are moving into transition time within APTA as well – conducting interviews of candidates for national office, preparing motions for the up-coming House of Delegates – all things that will help move the Association forward yet again.

I wanted to take a moment to appreciate our Academy and SIG volunteers for their continued commitment and enthusiasm in sharing their talents with all of us. Working with this group has made the beginning of my time as President a true pleasure and I’m excited for our continued growth as well.

There are always opportunities for ANY of our members to share their talents – even if you have limited time. Feel free to reach out and we can discuss what might work for you. Wishing everyone a safe and happy start to summer!

Stephanie Woelfel, ACEWM President

Student Highlight - Meet Jah'Nai Williams

Where did you go to undergrad & where are you going to PT school? Jah'Nai completed her undergraduate degree in Health Science (Pre-PT) at Florida A&M University and was subsequently accepted into A&M's DPT program. She is starting her 3rd year in the program and is enjoying clinical experiences.

What do you like best about your DPT program? A small cohort of 22 students is what Jah'Nai likes best about her DPT program as this small number allows students and faculty to get to know each other well. Students get a lot of "one-on-one attention" at Florida A&M and the program has a "personal" feel she appreciates.

What are your plans after graduation & what would be your dream job? After graduation, Jah'Nai has three different plans: 1) be accepted into the wound residency program at LSU, (2) work for a year to gain experience and then become a traveling PT, or (3) join the Navy and "see the world". Her dream job would be to work as a Director of Rehabilitation at a hospital.

Which area of the ACEWM are you most interested in? Jah'Nai joined the ACEWM because of her strong interest in wound care. Her mom is a wound care nurse and Jah'Nai wants to learn how PTs can help people with wounds.

What is your favorite food? "Ribs with really good sauce"

Would you rather stay home with a good book or travel? "Travel!" Jah'Nai loves to "talk and get to know a lot of people" which will come in handy during future travel adventures.

What five words best describe you? "Energetic, hardworking, determined, optimistic, and tenacious" - all of which will serve her well as a future PT and world traveler!
Good luck on your clinicals Jah'Nai – we look forward to watching you emerge as an excellent wound management PT!!
